NOTE—PAGE 4-144.

MAJOR GENERAL FITZ JOHN PORTER. HIS PORTSMOUTH AND KITTERY ANCESTORS.

Major General Fitz John Porter, the inscription on whose equestrian statue in Haven Park, Portsmouth, is printed on page 4—144, was born August 31, 1822, in the house then on the site of Haven Park, now on the opposite <sup>SIDE</sup> of Livermore Street. It was built by Matthew Livermore about 1735; and was the residence of Samuel E. Coues, Esq., from about 1823 to 1853, and later of Albert R. Hatch, Esq., and family.

General Porter, through his mother, Eliza Chauncy Clark, born 1790, who married February 25, 1815, Lieut. John Porter, U. S. Navy, (brother of Commodore David D. Porter of "Essex" renown) was the grandson of Jeremiah and Elizabeth Hirst (Chauncy) Clark, of York, Maine; and the great grandson of Charles and Joanna Cutts (Gerrish) Chauncy. Capt. John Porter died at Watertown, Mass., in 1831. Mrs. Porter died in 1872.

Charles Chauncy, born in 1728, son of Rev. Charles Chauncy, D. D., of Boston, (and great grandson of President Charles Chauncy of Harvard College, inaugurated 1654), graduated at Harvard in 1748, and settled at Kittery Point. He married first, May 21, 1756, Mary, daughter of Richard and Eunice (Curtis) Cutts, who died April 23, 1758.

Charles Chauncy married, second, July 1, 1760, Joanna Cutts Gerrish, daughter of Capt. Timothy Gerrish, owner of Gerrish's Island, Kittery, Maine, previously called Cutts' Island and earlier Champernowne's Island.

Charles Chauncy was a resident, first of Kittery, and later of Portsmouth, living from 1791 until his death November 22, 1809, age 81, in the former mansion of Col. Pierse Long (Revolutionary War) on South street. This house, "one of the most spacious old houses south of the south mill bridge was taken down in 1835. Its location was some rods west of the [present] Haven School House, in the rear [1859] of the residence of Francis Marden, Esq. It was gambrel roofed, facing the street, and about a hundred feet back from it, leaving a handsome green spot in front, and a gravel walk to the door through two rows of trees." (Brewster's "Rambles About Portsmouth", First Series, 1859, page 269).

This house was earlier the residence of Andrew and James Clarkson (brothers) as related in the "Rambles", I—269-272. It was also as stated the residence of "Hon. Pierse Long [Delegate from New Hampshire in the Old Congress, 1784-1786; State Senator or Councillor, 1786-1789;—1788-1789—"N. H. Manual."—and in 1788 Delegate to the State Convention to adopt the present Constitution of the United States, and gave his influence and vote for its acceptance by New Hampshire—the ninth State to accept, which insured its adoption], who spent many years of his life and its closing hours in the mansion, which, after his death in 1789, was known as the Chauncy House" ("Rambles" I—272 and 275). See "Rambles I—272-276, also "Printed Records", 1893, pages 7, 43-45; 1917, page 10; and 1923, page 8.

An interesting account of Charles Chauncy and his family by his granddaughter, Mrs. Eliza Porter (General Porter's mother), will be found in the "Rambles", I—276-282. There is a notable monument to his memory, with Latin inscription, in Cotton's Cemetery, Portsmouth. Mrs. Chauncy, who died August 30, 1809, but three months before her husband, is also buried there.

General Porter's great grandmother, Mrs. Charles Chauncy, was descended from early settlers of Kittery, Maine, in the following line, as given in "Old Kittery and Her Families", by Everett S. Stackpole, Lewiston, Maine, 1903, pages 333 and 445.

1. ROBERT CUTT, of Kittery.

"John and Richard Cutt (anciently the name was spelled without an s) settled at Strawberry Bank [Portsmouth, N. H.] before 1646. Their brother Robert came from the West Indies and settled in Kittery a few years later. He had a ship yard and built many vessels. His first wife's name is unknown. His second wife was Mary Hoel, daughter of an English clergyman, whom he married in the West Indies. He died at Kittery, June 18, 1674, and his widow married Francis Champernowne. After the death of her second husband, 1687, she removed to South Carolina."

2. "Richard Cutt married 1686, Joanna, daughter of Thomas and Lucia (Treworgy) Wills, of Kittery. Lived on 'Cutt's Island,' formerly called Champernowne's Island. Was seven times Selectman. He died about 1735."

3. "Joanna Cutt, born 14 April 1715, married 12 April, 1739, Capt. Timothy Gerrish [owner of Gerrish's Island], died 2 July, 1812."

4. "Joanna [Cutts] Gerrish, baptized 16 March 1739-40, (at Kittery Point); married Charles Chauncy, 1 July 1760; died 30 August, 1809."

"In 1679, when New Hampshire was separated from Massachusetts, the King appointed John Cutt as President." ("Rambles", I—28.)

General William Whipple, of Portsmouth, born in Kittery, Signer of the Declaration of Independence, was a great grandson of Robert Cutt (1st), through his son Robert Cutt (2nd), as related in "The Presentation of Flags to the Schools of Portsmouth, N. H.", 1890, pages 20-21; and in "The Presentation of the Portraits of General William Whipple and Admiral David Glasgow Farragut to the City for the Whipple and Farragut Schools" 1891, pages 31-32; by Storer Post, G. A. R., of Portsmouth. Both are contained in "The Soldiers Memorial, Portsmouth, N. H.", 1893-1921.

The "Genealogy of the Cutts family in America", compiled by Cecil Hampden Cutts Howard, 658 pages, was published by Joel Munsell's Sons, Albany, N. Y., in 1892.

CAPTAIN MATTHEW THORNTON BETTON,
CO. K, 13th N. H. VOLUNTEER INFANTRY,
CHARTER MEMBER AND FIRST COMMANDER,
STORER POST, G. A. R.

Captain Matthew Thornton Betton, Co. K, 13th N. H. Volunteer Infantry,—“Born Derry [N. H.]; age 25; residence Portsmouth; enlisted September 13, 1862, as Private; appointed Captain, September 27, 1862; mustered in to date September 20, 1862, as Captain; mustered out June 21, 1865. P. O. Address [1895] Portsmouth”. (“N. H. Register”, 1895, page 658.)

He was a great grandson of Matthew Thornton of Londonderry, N. H., born 1714, died 1803;—one of the three Signers of the Declaration of Independence from New Hampshire;—and a grandson of Silas Betton, of Salem, N. H.—Representative in Congress from New Hampshire from 1803 to 1807,—who married Mary Thornton.

Captain Betton was a Charter Member and the First Commander of Storer Post, No. 1, Department of New Hampshire, G. A. R., of Portsmouth, organized November 8, 1867; and Organizer and First Commander, Provisional Department of New Hampshire, G. A. R., 1867;—as related in “Printed Records” 1921, pages 28—104, 29—105.

The 13th Regiment was organized at Concord, N. H., and left there by rail October 6, 1862, for Washington, D. C. It took part in the Battle of Fredericksburg, December 13, 1862, and in many other engagements. Co. K was mostly composed of men from Portsmouth and the neighboring towns.

On March 9, 1865, Captain Betton was assigned to the command of the 81st Regiment, New York Infantry, which was in a demoralized condition; whose discipline he soon restored.

At 8.30 A. M., April 3, 1865, on the occupation of Richmond, Virginia, Major General Charles Devens’ 3rd Division, 24th Army Corps, General John Gibbon commanding, having started to move on Richmond, the First Brigade, composed entirely of white troops, entered the city with the 13th New Hampshire in the lead, followed by the 81st New York.

Upon the occupation of Richmond, Captain Betton was appointed Military Commandant of Libby Prison and Castle Thunder, with his 81st New York Regiment as the Guard; and upon him fell the duty of liberating the Union prisoners, and confining the Rebels. He had altogether nearly three thousand Rebel soldiers as prisoners.

On May 1, 1865, at his own repeated request he was relieved from the command of the 81st New York, and returned to the 13th N. H.

The 13th returned to New Hampshire and disbanded at Concord, July 1, 1865.

Captain Betton died at East Derry, N. H., July 11, 1904, age 67; interment “Proprietors’ Cemetery—North of Pond”, Portsmouth, N. H., South “Part”.

Captain Betton’s grandson and namesake, Matthew Thornton Betton, Lieutenant (Junior Grade), Supply Corps, U. S. Navy, of Portsmouth, N. H., is now on duty at the U. S. Navy Yard, New York.

THE GRAVES WE DECORATE,

JANUARY 1, 1923.

This Alphabetical Index of the 821 Names entered in the "Printed Records", 1917, 1921, and 1923, gives the page where each "Name", with "Cemetery", "Part" and "Record", will be found in the continuously numbered pages.

In the "Printed Records", 1893, the Names are arranged alphabetically, both in the List of "The Graves We Decorate", pages 5-9, and in the "Additional Records", pages 13-72, the former showing "Cemetery" and "Part".

The "Addenda", "Printed Records", 1893, pages 73-76, contains five Names omitted from the "List" of "The Graves We Decorate" in that Record, viz:—

"Hall, Elijah—Rev. War".—Place of burial not then ascertained. Entered under "Episcopal Cemetery" in "Printed Records", 1907, page 12, and 1917, page 25, see also pages 43-46.

"Langdon, Samuel [Rev.]—Rev. War"—Buried at Hampton Falls, N. H.

"Coles, Peter—British Navy"—"Pre-Revolution".

"Hale, Samuel—Colonial War".—"Pre-Revolution".

"Hart, John—Colonial War".—"Pre-Revolution".

In the "Printed Records", 1907 and 1915, the Names are arranged alphabetically under the different cemeteries; and the "Cemetery" should first be ascertained from the 1893 "List" or the 1923 "Index", when the Name desired will generally be found.

Some few differences between the earlier and later "Printed Records" because of removals, corrections in "Names", in the "Cemetery" or "Part", and omissions—are noted under "The Number of Names", "Printed Records", 1917, page 39.

A few men enlisted under other names, as stated under "Differences in Names", "Printed Records", 1917, page 40.
